

Motivations for sharing your story

Reflection Questions	Your thoughts
What's an experience I've had that I'd like to share with others?
What is the tone of my story? Inspiring, lighthearted, hard hitting, outrage?
Who's the target audience for my story?
What am I hoping others will learn or get out of my story?
Do I want the audience to take action after hearing my story? What action do I want them to take?
